

Annapurna Circuit Trek (Flight from Jomsom-Pokhara)

Trip Overview

Khumbu Alpine Travel has made two kinds of trips to Annapurna Circuit. One is a flight back by Plane from Jomsom and another is a whole round walk. The Annapurna Circuit Trek part 1 is a trip with a flight back from Jomsom. It is an anti-clockwise round of the Annapurna region. Our trip starts from Kathmandu by Vehicle drive to a Place called Besisahar. These days the vehicle roads are available for 5 days of walk from Besisahar. Still, because of the rough track we prefer to walk while exploring and enjoying natural beauties as well as local customs and culture. From Besisahar our trip begins within the Annapurna mountain range of central Nepal. This is a long trek for travelers. The trek rises to an altitude of 5,416m on the Thorung La pass, touching the edge of the Tibetan plateau. Our trail follows the Marsyangdi River to Manang, trekking trails are filled with lush vegetation and fields. After acclimatizing in Manang our trip moved forward towards Tilicho Lake which is a highly located lake. After 16 days of soft walking on the beautiful trail that leads us to the Thorong La Pass, one of the highest passes in the mountain. Crossing the Thorangla pass and descending to Muktinath temple is sacred to both Hindu and Buddhist people with the wonder of amazement at the presence of 108 small waterfalls and mysterious natural gas fires. Our final destination will be Jomsom before the flight to Pokhara following through a beautiful desert valley called Khagbeni. After 20 minutes of short but very spectacular flight takes us down the Kali Gandaki Valley with great views of Niligiri and Dhaulagiri from Jomsom takes us to the beautiful city Pokhara. If our flight is done early, Pokhara is a city where you can get many things to explore and many activities to do such as Paragliding, Bungee Jumping, Zip flyer, Boating, and sightseeing around the city. After having done all, we will fly back to Kathmandu for departing to home land.
