

Rafting in Sunkoshi River

Trip Overview

Rafting via Sun Koshi River is an excellent adventure of water tributaries that cascade from the world's highest mountain range. The other name for Sun Koshi River is "The River of Gold." It follows the way from the Tibetan Plateau across the Mahabharat Range. The Sun Koshi River Rafting is the longest river and takes to classic water journey from snow-capped mountains. This adventure is amidst warm water along with an intimidating glimpse of diverse nature.

As Trishuli Rafting River, Sun Koshi River rafting is undoubtedly the most popular white-water rafting river in Nepal. The River of Gold falls under the class II and II rapids. The river has exciting circuits with doable challenges ahead. We can reach Sunkoshi River from Kathmandu taking a drive to Dolalghat. The drive extends around about 2 hours. The stunning view of Sun Koshi River from the Snow-capped Mountains is awe-inspiring and fascinating.

Sun Koshi River rafting is a suitable example of World-class rapids covering breathtaking scenery, thrilling and rich wildlife, and an abundant species of Orchids. Khumbu Alpine Travel Enterprise is the best option for you to select for this rafting. We offer well-trained rafting guides who are certified by the experience, knowledge, and best tutorial informants. In conclusion, it is a mesmerizing water exploration that has a richness of experience and adornment.

The best month for rafting in the Sun Koshi River is January to May, June to August, and September to December.

Gallery

Trip Itinerary

- Day 1 - Drive to Sunkoshi river spot, Engage with river and return to Kathmandu

Cost Includes & Excludes

Includes

- Pick up and drop From/to Hotel
- Food, salary, insurance, equipment and medicine etc. for local staff.
- All Rafting equipment
- Food, salary, insurance, equipment and medicine etc. for local staff.
- All Rafting equipment
- All local taxes and permit fees
- Expert river guide

Excludes

- Alcoholic and cold drinks.
- Alcoholic and cold drinks.
- Personal travel and accidental insurance